FEL Motorsports announces significant drop in series registration and race entry fees for 2025

Canada's premier motorsports platform to deliver same high-level, professional events at a notably reduced cost

ST. CATHARINES, ON – October 17, 2024 – FEL Motorsports is excited to announce a 20% decrease in registration and entry fees for 2025. Both the Sports Car Championship Canada and the Radical Cup Canada teams will see significant savings in 2025. Detailed pricing will be shared as soon as the 2025 schedule is announced within the next couple of weeks.

Entrants will still have the tiered registration options that has been offered in the past. This tiered entry format allows the teams and drivers to customize their program into a model that fits for them.

FEL Motorsports continues to stay the course on giving Canadian teams and drivers a relevant place to hone their skills through homologated racing in a safe and professional environment. FEL Motorsports believes that by lowering fees, grids in both series will increase. This growth will come from teams and drivers who have a desire to move up the ladder in motorsports.

“We started this journey to support Canadian race teams and drivers and give them a relevant place to race in Canada. Our teams have voiced concerns over budgets and we are listening. While lowering costs to teams we are committed to maintaining the same high-level, professional race weekends that our teams have come to expect. Our focus is on building car counts and increased grids as we move forward,” said FEL Motorsports President Chris Bye.
