ST. CATHARINES, ON (April 18, 2025) — FEL Motorsports has paused the 2025 season of the Sports Car Championship Canada (SCCC) presented by Michelin due to insufficient series entries. The 2025 Emzone Radical Cup Canada presented by Michelin will continue as scheduled.

"Running homologated race cars is expensive. Many of our teams are involved in various businesses and are uncertain about how the current political and economic climate—particularly the evolving tariff situation—will impact them," said Chris Bye, President of FEL Motorsports. "As a result, some teams have chosen to sit on the sidelines for now. We will continue to monitor these developments closely, and if conditions stabilize, we'll consult with our teams and make decisions as the season progresses."

FEL Motorsports remains deeply committed to its valued partners, including presenting partner Michelin, as well as the teams, drivers, fans, and stakeholders across the motorsport community. The 2025 pause allows for strategic planning and renewed focus as FEL Motorsports works to build a stronger, more sustainable foundation for professional racing in Canada in 2026 and beyond.

"I'm incredibly proud of what FEL Motorsports has accomplished since launching in 2021," Bye added. "Earlier this year, 10 FEL alumni competed during the IMSA Rolex 24 Hours at Daytona weekend — the first time in decades that so many Canadian drivers and teams were represented at the event. That milestone reflects the strength and promise of Canadian motorsport, and our commitment to supporting drivers, teams, sponsors, and fans remains unchanged."
